CALL TO ORDER
The Special Session began at 5:07 p.m. Board President Tracy Livingston welcomed the group and shared her vision for the meeting’s discussion. Her intention was to have the Board actively lead the institution rather than run behind and without getting stuck in the weeds. She asked the Board to consider:

- Do the current Governing Board Outcomes position the District to fulfill its promise to the community?
- Which Governing Board Outcomes should the Governing Board prioritize for 2015-16? For 2016-2020?
- What policy and resource strategies should be implemented by the Governing Board to help advance the Board Outcome Priorities?

She envisions a practical timeline but quick, suggesting the Board spend two to three work sessions to create a strategic plan and adopt a new tool to evaluate the Chancellor—with a due date of October 2. She also recommended that committee assignments stay practical and on task, asking only those assigned to the committee to participate in discussions as any recommendations would be brought to the Board before any action could be taken. Board members objected to having ‘non-members’ on the sidelines in committee meetings so the Policy and Budget and Finance committees are now committees of the whole.

A question was raised on proper procedure for calling special meetings and a Board member recommended any new meetings be brought before the Board for a vote requiring 2/3 approval to set. (This is not necessary as MCCCD’s own policies state how meetings may be called, as needed, see 4.5 Board Meetings.)

STRATEGIC PLANNING
BROAD OVERVIEW
Dr. Maria Harper Marinick, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost, provided a high level and brief review of the strategic plan for the District. The current strategic plan, 2013-2016, was developed after the adoption of the Board outcomes and metrics in 2011. It is not prescriptive and allows for innovation. A copy of the presentation is included in the Appendix.

Maricopa Process for System-Wide Integrated Planning

- Planning process focuses on change—strategic, not operational
- Aligns and integrates planning for the future throughout the system
- Advances the new Governing Board Outcomes and Metrics
- Strengthens ONE Maricopa and other system priorities
- Incorporates 21st Century Maricopa initiatives

Components of System-Wide Integrated Planning

- Addresses system-level strategies currently being pursued:
  - ONE Maricopa, Seamless Student Experience, Developmental Education Initiative, Completion Agenda
- Captures emerging strategies and innovations at the college and system level
- Incorporates a comprehensive environmental scanning process
- Drives resource allocation

Questions by Board Members

- Some items in the plan are concrete, others less so. Is there a report on how well MCCCD had done? (An end-of-year progress report is prepared every year; the plan is inclusive of FY15-16. Now is the time to revisit and collect information for the next cycle.)
- There is a metrics report presented in November that is impressive, specific, and measures outcomes in a way that tells the Board whether MCCCD met that goal. Board members want the aspirational and concrete efforts tied together clearly. (A report will be provided.)
- Why did the Strategic Planning Council decide on the four areas identified in the report (access to learning, pathways to success, effective teaching and learning, and organizational integrity)? (The Council looked at all the data, along with other models, and came up with an integrated model for strategic planning.)

STRATEGIC PLANNING DIVISION FOCUSED

Ms. LaCoya Shelton-Johnson, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources, presented an overview that illustrated how the District Strategic Plan informs a division-specific strategic plan and provided a snapshot of HR’s main areas of focus for the next three years. A copy of her presentation is included in the Appendix.

Planning considered whether the HR system was conducive to supporting Maricopa in its strategic imperatives. Does MCCCD have enough trained talent to accomplish its goals? Plans were developed with broad stakeholder input. HR’s strategic plan 2015-2018 is designed to stabilize and modernize the HR structure with five core goals: technology, internal effectiveness, ONE Maricopa Workforce, workforce analytics, and strengthening MCCCD’s position in the employment marketplace.

Questions by Board Members

- Are your efforts measuring similarly positioned people elsewhere? Does MCCCD have the capacity to do that? (There are a number of sources that provide that data at MCCCD’s disposal and the new system can help identify total employment rewards package.)
- Employees feel somewhat disenfranchised regarding the One Maricopa Workforce decision (combining the five existing employee groups into a single classified staff group). Board members asked why fixing the existing system was not considered (make them all fair/equal but maintain identity). Discussion continued on this topic and VC Johnson will respond to the Board regarding the decision making process and communications plans.

President Livingston wrapped the discussion by asking Board members to take a positive stance to set a priority for strategic planning and set a couple of dates to discuss the big overriding questions to help the system move forward on its agenda. She said if the Board feels the Outcomes are not fulfilling MCCCD’s promise to the community, the Board needs to decide where to go.
This would include discussing the path toward single accreditation and ONE Maricopa conversations. The purpose of the day’s discussion was to acquaint the Board with the District’s strategic plan so the Board could align its own (by adding additional Outcomes, for example). Another objective would be to align the MCCCD system with industry groups to make sure students meet employer demands/expectations. She wants the Board to set priorities and help direct how resources are allocated.

Dr. Glasper commented that Dr. Harper-Marinick’s presentation was driven by Board Outcomes. The Board provides the ends and the Chancellor provides the means. The previous Board set priorities on Developmental Education and Workforce Development; he hopes this Board doesn’t set new Outcomes and metrics at the stake of Developmental Education and Workforce Development.

Board Recommendations

- Align discussion in existing committee meetings.
- Board should take the District’s strategic plan and see if it meets the Board’s needs rather than create a new and separate Board strategic plan. The Board could offer suggestions to the Chancellor when new ideas come up.
- The Chancellor’s Evaluation should be discussed in Executive Session.
- After some discussion, a consensus was reached that the Board would adopt the District’s strategic plan and make recommendations for new initiatives (not Outcomes) to the Chancellor as needed. The Governance Manager noted that new initiatives must come from the committee of the whole rather than individual Board member interests.

BOARD COMMITTEES

This was addressed at the beginning of the meeting so discussion moved on to the next item.

CHANCELLOR’S REVIEW

President Livingston reminded the Board that last year (2014) the Chancellor was presented with a letter from the Board summarizing the year’s evaluation process. She proposes to do the same to complete this year’s evaluation (2015). She remarked that the Governance Manager and Vice Chancellor of Human Resources were pulling together a new evaluation tool for the next monitoring cycle.

Board Recommendations

- Delay discussion of future evaluation until the Board completes the current cycle.
- Discuss the Chancellor’s 2015 evaluation in Executive Session, TBA.
- Make sure the evaluation fits what MCCCD is doing.
- The policy is what we evaluate the Chancellor by and the Board needs to have a full discussion on whether that is sufficient or if it needs to change.
- Better align the timing of the Chancellor’s evaluation and annual monitoring report.

ADJOURNMENT

The Special Session was adjourned at 7:15 p.m.
